

IPFW's Appleseed Writing Project
is pleased to offer its Fall 2010
SATURDAY SEMINARS

A series of teacher workshops presented on the IPFW campus

Advanced Writer's Notebook (10FPER346)

September 25, 2010 9:00 a.m.-12:00 p.m. SB 176 Cost: $30.00

An advanced writer's workshop on writer's notebook for K-16 educators will be presented by Appleseed Project Teacher Consultant Marg Goyings. In this half-day workshop, she will present further strategies in using writer's notebooks to generate writing ideas and build on writing seeds for students in all subject and grade levels. Bring your writer's notebook!

Writing about Social Justice (10FPER430)

October 23, 2010 9:00 a.m. -12:00 p.m. SB 176 Cost: $30.00

"As a social justice educator I consistently ask, 'Whose voices are left out of our curriculum? Whose stories are buried?'" (Linda Christiansen, Teaching for Joy and Justice).

Students come to school every day hopelessly burdened with emotional baggage. This workshop, presented by Teacher Consultant Cookye Rutledge, will show participants how to use literature and music to create a safe classroom environment for students to share their stories and have every voice be recognized, listened to, and valued for all its unique properties. This is the classroom where school, home and community life intersect.

The works of Daniel Beatty, Lucille Clifton, Martin Espada and Lawson Inada will be used. Bring an open heart, an inquiring mind and lots of compassion and leave with a greater understanding of what it means to be "an American."

Teaching with Technology (10FPER304)

November 13, 2010 9:00-12:00 LB 440A Cost: 30.00

As the demands on 21st Century teachers continue to grow, technology is on the forefront of strategies used to reach students where they are at. This workshop is designed to provide basic instruction and insight into some web tools available to K-16 educators. Teacher Consultant Lisa Hughes will guide you through purposeful Google and Microsoft Word features, wikis, blogs, forums, and chats. Come with an open mind and lots of questions!
