Mastodon Career Call – Upcoming Webinar

Marketing Your International Skills!
March 18, 2014 from 12:00p.m. to 1:00p.m.

How do you talk about your study abroad trip? Funny personal stories are great for friends, but with a future employer, you must be able to articulate meaningful skills gained. Learn how you can use your study abroad or other international travel and learning experience in writing a resume and interviewing for internships, graduate school, or post-graduation employment. It is important to highlight the tangible skills you've learned in a language that will appeal to employers.

[Presenters: Lyndon Miller, Graduate Assistant / Career Services and Megan Underwood, Graduate Assistant / International Education]

Sponsored By:

IPFW Career Services & Office for Diversity and Multicultural Affairs &