

GIRLS LEADING OTHERS

The Division of Organizational Leadership is looking for energetic individuals who would like to be peer advisors for the Summer 2005 one week GLO camp for middle school girls.

The goal of our leadership camp is to provide an opportunity for girls to consider new models of leadership and to develop their own abilities for exercising leadership in their lives. They will be introduced to communication and technology tools that can help them express their ideas.

We are looking for individuals who.....

- ❖ Have a positive, can-do attitude
- ❖ Are passionate about assisting others in developing their potential
- ❖ Want to convey to girls that IPFW is a great place to be
- ❖ Are in any major

What will I be doing with the girls?

- ❖ Developing real leadership skills such as team building, communication, empowerment, and creativity
- ❖ Acting as a role-model for high school peer advisors and camp participants
- ❖ Helping them discover who they are and what they may become

What's in it for me?

- ❖ Meeting new people and trying new things!
- ❖ Having fun with others who are interested in leadership
- ❖ Developing your own planning, training, and leadership skills
- ❖ Great resume builder!

What are the details?

- ❖ Dates: June 20 – 24
- ❖ Time: 9:00 – 3:00
- ❖ Place: IPFW campus
- ❖ Note: You do not need to be available all five days

If this sounds like an opportunity you are interested in, come to the Division of Organizational Leadership office, Neff 288 to obtain application information.

Preference given to applications in before Friday, March 4, 2005
Interviews will be conducted in March
