Description of the department:

The Department of Professional Studies is home to three graduate programs in the College of Education and Public Policy: Counselor Education, Educational Leadership, and Special Education. The Counselor Education Program boasts the largest enrollment of all graduate programs on campus. All of our degrees focus on the development of professionals who understand the combination of theory, research, and best-practices that make a significant difference in the lives of clients, students, and school communities. Throughout our programs students are exposed to a variety of learning experiences; real-life experiences in practical settings are emphasized.

Description and location of the university:

Indiana University–Purdue University Fort Wayne (IPFW) is the largest university in northeast Indiana, offering more than 200 prestigious Indiana University and Purdue University degrees and certificates. More than 13,000 students of diverse ages, races, and nationalities belong to the IPFW family. The 688-acre campus in Fort Wayne is home to nearly 10,000 degree-seeking undergraduate and graduate students. Through IPFW’s partnerships with area high schools, almost 3,300 high school students take dual-credit courses, simultaneously earning both high school and college credits. IPFW is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access University accredited by The Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. Learn more about us at ipfw.edu.
