Meet the Director: Orion Rapp

Orion Rapp is principal oboist of the Fort Wayne Philharmonic, a position he has held since fall 2013. He has also served as principal oboist of the Illinois Symphony Orchestra since 2009, where he is regularly featured as a soloist. An avid educator, Orion regularly coaches chamber music and teaches oboe reed-making at the historic Interlochen’s Summer Arts Camp. In addition, he has taught undergraduate chamber music at Rutgers University, and for three years Orion was a conductor and woodwind coach for the Youth Orchestra of Central Jersey in Princeton, New Jersey. Orion is currently a doctoral candidate (DMA) at Rutgers University and he holds a master’s degree from the Cleveland Institute of Music.

Parental Supervision Statement
IPFW is a public institution of higher education that offers a wide variety of classes, to a wide range of students from differing backgrounds, including adults and children in grades pre-K – 12.
While the IPFW College of Visual and Performing Arts is committed to ensuring the safety and well-being of all students, parents are reminded that it is their responsibility to supervise minors when they are on campus and not in the classroom. Before and after class, our teachers cannot take the place of a parent and assume responsibility for unsupervised children.
